WARREN STEEL PICKETS BLOCK FREIGHT TRAIN

RAILROAD POLICE ARE OUTNUMBERED

Rail Companies Awaiting Hearing On Injunction
Plea

(By United Press)
WARREN, June 4.—A crowd of Republic Steel Corp. strike pickets and sympathizers blocked a Baltimore & Ohio freight train today when it headed for Republic's picket-bound plant.

Two uniformed policemen of the railroad watched as the men piled ties on the railroad tracks 300 yards from the gates of the plant and then gave the train a shove so it struck the ties. Several ties then were chained to the track.

The freight train, consisting of hoppers, tank cars and freight cars, had been backed into a siding and had been idle for an hour when the crowd piled up the ties.

A crowd of 100 men still working in the plant stood just inside the gate. The railroad police made no effort to interfere.

Three railroads, including the Baltimore & Ohio, have asked a federal injunction to prevent picketing from interfering with shipments in the Mahoning valley. Hearing on the injunction is scheduled for June 8.

State Liquor Store Protests Closing

SEBRING, June 4.—Resumption of sales by the state liquor store branch here and a court fight against action of law enforcement officers were developments which appeared Thursday in the situation resulting from Sheriff Ralph E. Sebring's order stopping sales of beer, wine and liquor in Mahoning county.

J. M. Hazen, operator of the state liquor branch here, was told by the Akron district office of the state liquor control board that he is not required to obey the order since it came from county law enforcement heads and not from the board, under whose jurisdiction he sells. Although he had stopped liquor sales Tuesday in co-operation with the sheriff's move, Hazen resumed selling yesterday afternoon on advice of the Akron office.

The court fight against the ban was started by the Buckeye Retail Liquor and Beer Dealers' association, which Wednesday asked a temporary injunction to restrain authorities from carrying out what the dealers termed "illegal interference."

Producers Board Sues Coal Company

LISBON, June 4.—A suit for collection of a special assessment was filed Thursday by the Bituminous Coal Producers' board against The East Fairfield Coal Co., R. D. 2, Columbiana.

The action was filed by Ezra Van Horn as liquidating agent for the board and seeks recovery of $240.30. This amount, according to the petition, was levied against the company on a tonnage basis for November and December, 1935, and January, 1936.

The agent filed a similar action against another Columbiana county coal firm a few weeks ago.

CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDE; 2 HURT

Chicago Driver and CCC
Camper Are Brought To Clinic

Two men were treated at the Central Clinic for injuries Thursday afternoon following a collision between a car driven by Irving L. Joseph, 32, of Chicago, Ill., and a CCC truck driven by James Beadnell, 18, of the Carroll county CCC camp at Carrollton.

The accident occurred at 1 p. m. on the Lincoln highway, one mile east of East Rochester when Joseph, enroute west, attempted to pass the truck as Beadnell turned into a driveway, according to State Patrolman F. S. Van Allen's report.

Beadnell escaped unhurt while Joseph was treated at the local hospital for back injuries, a scalp wound and an injury to his knee. Herb Oppenheim, 27, also of Chicago and riding with Joseph, received a severe scalp laceration and cuts to both hands and arms.

An unidentified motorist was hurt at 8:30 p. m. yesterday when his car ran into the side of a truck driven by Charles W. Atkinson of Beaver Falls, Pa., on South Broadway. Atkinson told police the other driver left immediately to secure medical aid after striking the truck which was ready to back into the loading dock at the E. W. Bliss Co. plant.

Play "Mumble-Peg", Solve Knife Theft

ROCKFORD, Ill. — Detectives Paul Phelan and Ralph Johnson recalled their school day games to solve the theft of watches, knives and BB shot from a hardware store.

Whenever they came upon a group of boys, the detectives invited them to join in a game of mumble-peg in which jack knives are used.

"I bet I can beat you," one 12-year-old lad boasted, pulling a new knife from his pocket.

The officers recognized it as one of six taken from the hardware store. The youth confessed, and implicated his brother and two other boys.

PAVING TANGLE IS IRONED OUT

Complete Improvement of
E. Pershing St. Section Assured

The work of paving East Pershing st., between Ohio and South Lincoln avenues, will go forward without delay according to original plans and specifications, city officials announced today.

City councilmen announced settlement of a difficulty arising over payment of assessment costs by a property owner on the northeast corner of the Lincoln avenue intersection. This had threatened to hold up the improvement of the street at that point.

WPA workers already are busy pouring concrete and making curbs. The laying of the slag bottom and paving of the street with an asphalt top will be started as soon as curbs are completed and light poles and utility service lines are moved back.

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff and Mayor George Harhoff indicated the street will be paved without alteration of the curve near the South Lincoln ave. intersection.

Salineville Boy, 13, Killed By Machine

SALINEVILLE, June 4.—Funeral service will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in St. Patrick's church for John Francis Hesketh, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hesketh of Salineville who was killed in a traffic mishap near here Wednesday night.

The service will be in charge of Rev. Fr. William Murphy. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery.

The youth was instantly killed when struck by a truck while pushing a bicycle in route 39, a short distance east of the village. His neck was broken.

The boy and a companion, Keith Wheatley, 12, were returning home after swimming at Little Falls. He is said to have walked directly in front of a truck, owned by Getz & Co., poultry dealers of Baltic, and driven by Carl Barthelme, 28. The Wheatley boy was not injured.

County Coroner Arnold W. Devoni gave a verdict of "unavoidable accident" and exonerated the driver at an inquest.

He is survived by his parents; two brothers, James and Thomas of Buffalo, N. Y., and one sister, Agnes, at home.

Metallurgist Freed After Murder Trial

YOUNGSTOWN, June 4.—John W. Deetrick, metallurgical investigator, stood acquitted by a jury today of the fatal shooting of his wife, Ruth, last Aug. 1.

Seven men and five women deliberated nearly five hours before they brought in the verdict last night.

Defense attorneys contended throughout the trial that Mrs. Deetrick killed herself and Deetrick answered, "I did not," when asked if he shot her.

He testified that he did not hear the shot although the state contended that he slept on a couch ten feet from where the body was found. He also testified that he and his wife drank liquor at a party on the night of the shooting.

County's Oldest Active Physicians Are Honored

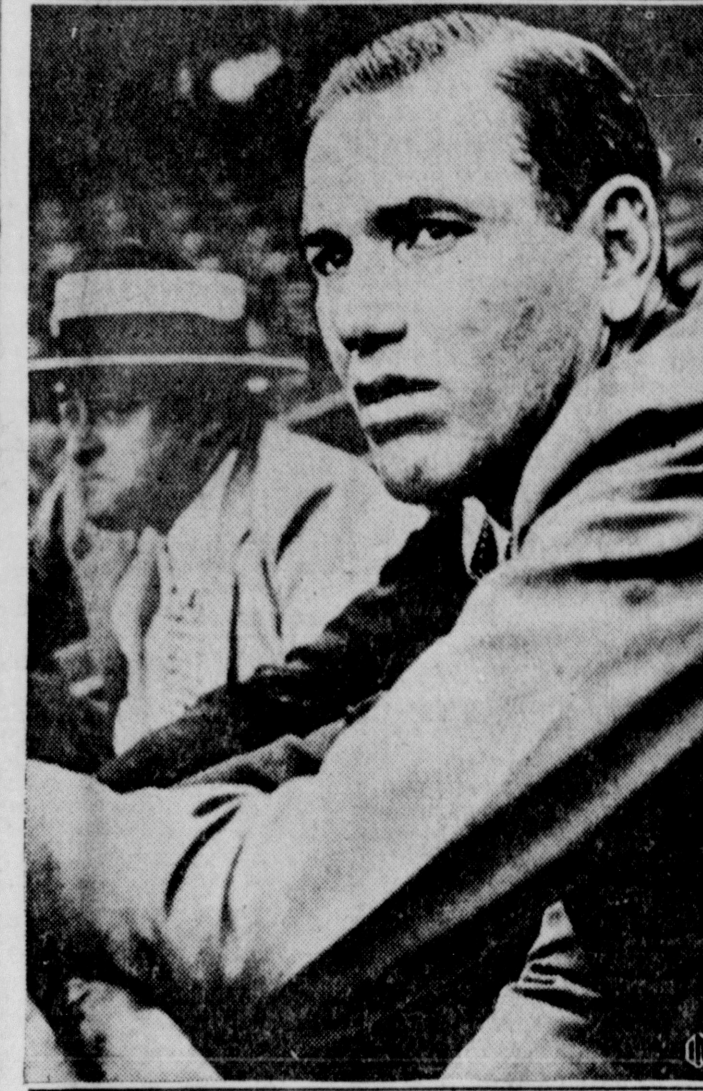

Dr. P. C. Hartford of East Palestine, and Dr. W. A. Hobbs of East Liverpool "In Harness" 50 Years

Two of the county's oldest practicing physicians, Dr. P. C. Hartford of East Palestine and Dr. W. A. Hobbs of East Liverpool, were honored yesterday at the annual outing of the Columbiana County Medical society at the East Palestine Country club.

About 65 members of the society and guests attended the outing to pay tribute to the two doctors who have been practicing for more than 50 years. Ten Salem physicians were among those present.

A golf tournament in the afternoon in which Dr. R. T. Holzbach of Salem won the prize for low gross score and Dr. Paul Corso of Salem won the net score.

Dean Suspension Is Lifted

Dizzy Dean, St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, is shown above as he watched a ball game from the grandstand yesterday. His suspension was lifted today by Ford Frick, president of the National league.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 4.—Despite Dizzy Dean's continued refusal today formally to sign any statement backing up his verbal denials of alleged controversial statements, the suspension of the Cardinal pitcher was ordered lifted by Ford Frick, president of the National league, effective within 24 hours.

Frick announced the lifting of the ban, under which he put Dean two days ago as an outgrowth of purported attacks by the pitcher on the league's chief executive and Umpire George Barr, after a chaotic conference at league headquarters.

Dean walked out of the meeting in a rage, at one time, declaring he was "all washed up," then was persuaded to return for another compromise attempt at settlement of the dispute. This consisted of a question and answer parley between Frick and Dean, with the pitcher flatly denying he made the critical statements attributed to him at St. Louis and Belleville, Ill.

Frick then announced lifting of the suspension.

Dr. L. C. Smith of Salem, retired Methodist Episcopal minister, was the principal speaker, talking on the subject of "How Men I Have Known Have Influenced Me." Rev. Smith is a close friend of Dr. Hartford.

Other speakers were Dr. Hartford, Dr. Hobbs and Dr. Holzbach of Beaver Falls, Pa. Dr. Holzbach was the veteran East Palestine physician's first instructor in medicine.

Dr. Harry Bookwalter of Columbiana served as toastmaster for the ceremonies following the dinner.

Film Extra Girl's
Charges May Bring
Grand Jury Probe

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—A film extra girl's story that she was ravished during a drinking party at which more than 100 girls were required to entertain visiting studio salesmen prompted the district attorney's office today to consider a grand jury investigation.

Since Patricia Douglas, 19, complained through her lawyer, William J. P. Brown, that she had been pilled with liquor, beaten by a man and attacked, other extra girls have demanded legal action.

District Attorney Buron Pitts said his investigators have taken statements from nearly a dozen other girls.

In Miss Douglas' affidavit, she told of receiving a telephone call to report to a studio wardrobe department with other extras. Half were given Spanish and the rest cowgirl clothes, she said, and all transported to the ranch in buses the night of May 5, expecting to take part in a picture.

Instead, Miss Douglas charged, they were assigned to tables and paired off with men guests at a studio's national sales convention. She said she asked for a soft drink but was given whisky, which made her ill. As she left the building the next morning, beating and attacking her in a car where she rested, she said.

Ohio Health Chief Warns of Dangers In State Streams

COLUMBUS, June 4.—Dr. W. H. Hartung, state health director, warned today that nearly every river and stream in Ohio was polluted to such an extent that swimmers, and in some instances fishermen, were exposing themselves to disease.

"The only way in which swimmers can be safe is to use any of the numerous public and private pools in the state," Dr. Hartung said.

"Supervised pools serve a double purpose. They provide uncontaminated water, and also clear water, so that if a swimmer is seized with cramps, his companions, or a life guard, can see him and, in most instances, get to him in time to save his life."

Dr. Hartung said that swimming in the Maumee river in the vicinity of Toledo had been banned, and in his opinion it would continue to be forbidden. Fishermen who wash their hands in the river and then eat their lunch, are exposing themselves to disease in the Maumee and nearly every other river in the state, he said.

Density of population is the principal reason for stream pollution in Ohio, the health department announced.

Timken's Is Closed By Sudden Strike

CANTON, June 4.—A sudden strike following a dispute over minimum wage demands left the Timken Roller Bearing Co., and its 6,500 production employees idle and its gates picketed today.

Howard Davis, president of the C. I. O. Steel Workers Organizing Committee local union, announced that the employees had voted the walkout after union officers and Frank A. Hardesty, C. I. O. sub-regional director here, failed to settle the dispute in a two and a half hour meeting with the management.

Davis said the employees wanted higher and more uniform minimum wages and would enforce the strike until their demands were met.

William Umstadtd, president of Timken, flew back to Canton from Detroit when he learned of the strike. "No demands have been presented and we have no inkling of what the difficulty is," Umstadtd said.

George W. Cole, master of the Macoubrey, said Mairs boarded the ship in Ashtabula, Ohio, May 30.

Capt. Dennis T. Sullivan of the marine inspection service, said an investigation will be conducted.

Possible Changes In Re- form Plan Indicated By Robinson

STATEMENT NOT DENIED BY F. D. R.

Criticizes Supreme Court
For Early Adjournment

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 4.—President Roosevelt said today there was no question that the court reorganization bill would be passed this session. He made the statement at his press conference at the same time parrying questions about a compromise.

The president, however, when he said Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, had given a correct statement last night to newspapermen, indicated the administration might accept some compromise proposal.

Robinson said certain amendments would be offered to the bill when it came up on the floor and that he may offer one himself.

Criticizes Adjournment

The President said the American people wanted court reform. He complained that while the supreme court was entitled to a recess it had adjourned for the summer without deciding several important cases in which the administration was vitally interested.

Speaking in metaphor, the President said, with regard to the proposal to enlarge the supreme court unless older justices retire, that the country in recent weeks had seen a forest while a lot of people in Washington were likely to see trees instead of a forest.

His forest remark was understood by his hearers to have reference to court reform generally; the trees relating to the number of new judges needed.

Asked flatly about a possible compromise on two new judges instead of six as he originally proposed, the President said the inquiry was talking about trees while he was talking about court reform.

"How many trees to make a forest?" someone asked.

He smiled but did not answer.

Lists Cases

The President said an illustration of the need for court reform was given by the high tribunal last week in adjourning until October without deciding four cases important to the country.

He listed them as the TVA case, which had been decided only partially before; the PWA cases involving the right of the federal government to lend money to municipalities for power projects; and the securities commission case.

He did not mention the fourth case specifically. He did say, however, the court had made no suggestion for remedying the situation which he said was preventing the government from prosecuting the Aluminum company anti-trust suit.

Bible Chautauqua To Begin June 21

Plans for the annual Children's Bible chautauqua will be made tonight at 7:45 by workers of the First Baptist church. The school, which is a regular part of the summer program, usually attracts 500 Salem children daily. The tentative date for the opening session is Monday, June 21.

The pastor, Rev. Arnold Carl Westphal, who will again be in leadership of the movement, is asking for all volunteers who will help, to meet with him tonight for distribution of work. Workers are needed who can help take care of the children, even though they may not be able to teach. The enrollment will be limited this year, and will be set in proportion to the number of workers.

This will be the ninth consecutive Chautauqua conducted by volunteer workers in the church. The program will consist of courses of study in the Bible, memory work, music, drama, junior choir, contests, object lessons and patriotism.

The beginners and primary departments will use expressional activities, with hand work. Children of all ages are acceptable, until the enrollment capacity is reached. No charge or fee is made, the work being supported by the daily free will offerings of the children and by the Baptist Sunday school.

Mt. Union Expects Record Enrollment

ALLIANCE, June 4.—Mount Union college officials are anticipating a record enrollment for this fall, with registrations to date in excess of 100 per cent of figures last year.

COME, BE GENEROUS

The President's sermon to taxpayers on the text of "Come, Be Generous" will be interpreted several ways. Mr. Roosevelt seems to believe wealthy taxpayers should err in the government's favor when figuring what they should pay. Taxpayers who aren't wealthy may agree; wealthy ones won't. Neither is likely to err intentionally in anyone's favor but his own.

The resident seems to think it is improper for a taxpayer to try to protect his interests against confiscatory rates of taxation. Fiscal students have known for years that the point of diminishing returns in taxation was reached when tax avoidance became necessary for self-preservation. Yet, apostles of the new order are not willing to be bound by the experience of generations of tax collectors. To them, it is merely unpatriotic for taxpayers to take advantage of loopholes in the law, not natural.

That puts the problem up to congress, which must decide whether to plug up the loopholes or be satisfied with the existing arrangement. Some congressmen want tax laws to be thrown open for revision. The LaFollette group, for instance, is waiting to put over an income tax on virtually every wage earner not already on relief. Others would rather postpone revision till later.

In the back of many congressional minds must be the thought that it isn't a bad idea for tax collectors to have to work hard for the revenue they get. The New Deal program calls for expanding revenue to meet expanding cost. The Roosevelt administration has shown no interest in curtailing expenses. It will spend as much as or more than it is able to collect, so perhaps it isn't wholly tragic that it has been unable to collect as much as it wanted.

The public does not condone tax evasion. It does not believe a few wealthy taxpayers should escape through loopholes which aren't available to other taxpayers. Neither does it agree with Mr. Roosevelt that taxpayers should see nothing but sweetness and light in the hugely increased cost of their government. If government thinks it has reached the point where taxpayers aren't going to fight back any more, it is having an optical illusion about Utopia for job-holders and bureaucrats.

THE COOKING CONTROVERSY, IF ANY

Every so often some writer or speaker whose wife probably just outdid herself on a bridge club dessert and served the surplus for dinner launches into a dyspeptic complaint about modern cookery.

The fact is, modern cookery can be pretty bad. There has been too much experimentation with the limited possibilities of arranging fundamental edibles. But all this means is that cooks have been trying to play up to the jaded appetites of chronic fussers whose table complexes aren't helped a bit by tricks with whipped cream and cracker crumbs.

It isn't the fault of the cooks; they're trying to please. Furthermore, no damage has been done. The basic edibles, like the basic truths, can't be hurt by departures from them. The more things change, the more they are the same—a fact plainly evident to millions of hearty eaters who stumble off to bed each night, glassy eyed with mashed potatoes, sauer kraut, pork dumplings, slabs of bread and butter, and looking forward to griddle cakes, sausage, eggs and maybe a cut of pie the next morning.

All in all, there's too much complaining about what is wrong with modern cooking and not enough praising for cooking, which being unhampered by so-called modernity, is timeless in its solid excellence.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, June 4—Thoughts while strolling: Add derbyists—Major Bowes and Conde Nast. Nothing stirs wanderlust like a liner nosing out to open sea. Reddest of the red-haired orchestra leaders: Richard Himber. For a smooth public speaker, I'll take Albert Edward Wiggam.

Rhyme: For a swift dancing caper, no one is topping Paul Draper. Otto Soglow is the same size and shape of the King he draws. Never knew anyone who didn't like Grantland Rice. Ogden Nash still looks the collegiate freshman and Roy Howard continues to turn in those shirt and tie combinations.

Any magazine would top a million for the Duke of Windsor's thoughts. Bushy haired boys: Arnold Genthe, Will Irwin, J. P. McEvoy and Jay C. Flippen. The midget mustache Herb Roth features, the big stiff. Comics have to step some to be funnier than W. C. Fields on the radio. Or anywhere else.

Tempus fugitive note: F. Scott Fitzgerald thatching grey at the temples. Famous walks: Hope Williams, Otis Skinner, Dolores, Mrs. Fiske, Jack Dempsey and Chaplin. Connecticut neighbors: Gene Tunney and Heywood Brown. Voices alike: Nellie Revell and Fibber McGee's Molly.

Handsome scribblers: John McClain and Joe Bryan III. America's highest priced society reporter, Maury Paul in his rolls. Wonder if Tobie Summer knows Obie Winter? Ambition: To have James Melton's voice and join the boys on the court house steps in "Sweet Adeline!"

The entire state of Alabama is going to town for its favorite theatrical daughter, the glamorous Tallulah Bankhead, as a selection for the "Scarlett O'Hara" role in "Gone With the Wind." Editorials are being written and public meetings are being held to further the plea. Alabamians feel the interpreter of Scarlett must be a brilliant, vivacious dashing personality. "Tallu" is all that, with a hefty plus. She should be of the South and she is that. Also the actress is the daughter of an eminent Southern family, the grand-daughter of a Confederate captain, and has the proper accent. Too, there is a growing demand for Miriam Hopkins, another Southern daughter.

Daniel Frohman, who will be 87 this August, has eaten but one meal a day for years. His method is simple. He eats the meal, and a big one, when he is hungry. It may be at 9 o'clock in the morning, 3 in the afternoon or 11 at night. He believes that too many people allow their appetites to be guided by the hour. That is: "Well, it is 1 o'clock and I must go out to lunch." Frohman's only diversion is bridge, and he plays a first class game.

Jack Bragawanath, the mining engineer, who has been known chiefly among the cognescenti as Neysa McMein's husband is shucking off that more or less cloistered role. Recently he authored a book on prospecting to show that he has been around and seen a few things in queer corners of the world. Then he tried his hand at painting, and they say that one or two of his nudes put September Morn smack back in the horse and buggy era. Now comes news he has authored a play that is brimming with vim and vinegar. And if it gets by the censor will make "The Woman" and a few other eye-poppers appear tame indeed.

In the Ghetto at least the canopied carriage, horse drawn, has survived. There are two or three that appear in crowded centers on Sunday morning in side streets off Grand with drivers in faded uniforms and shabby high hats. They are filled with denizens who get a ten-block ride for 25 cents. For many tired tenement housewives and mothers this relaxation is the only surcease from the eternal hub-hub.

A summer delicacy on Delancey street, too, is par-boiled watermelon seeds, heavily salted. They are sold from doorways for a penny a small poke. The salty confection is a great thirst-riser for celery beer, the favorite brew of the lower East Side. John Drew used to send down to Delancey for dried melon seeds, using them as tid-bits with cocktails.

Many of us ex-trick bicycle riders—see L. A. W. report of Gallia county meet for July, 1900—are gladdened by a revival of the art. Three have been featured in cabaret floor shows this winter. Then, of course, there is Joe Jackson's comedy trick act which goes on and on as a headliner in variety halls all over the world. The newest of the bike tricks is a one-hand stand on the handle bars. Then there is Boy Foy on one wheel who appears in the Rainbow Room and at Music Hall.

The climax of my trick bicycling was to ride, after a running start, with one foot on the saddle and the other on the handle-bars, arms folded. Was I the one! I was at least until the fatal day the front tire contacted a discarded watermelon rind. They carried me, feet up, on a shutter, home to grandma with a stove-up neck, a twisted sacroiliac and two dangling front teeth.

From an editorial: "No one remembers exactly when the first big swing from right to left took place. So far as I'm concerned it was when Mrs. Leslie Carter hung to that bell clapper in 'Heart of Maryland.'"

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, June 5

Affairs of a lively, interesting and pleasant nature may be accelerated by the rather auspicious rule of the governing planets for this day. Progress, opportunity and profitable conditions regarding finance are foreseen, with possible notice or favors from important personages. A menace of intrigue or subtlety is seen, with a little danger in employment or in private affairs.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a lively, eventful and progressive year, with much of pleasure and interest in both private and business lives. Social, domestic and romantic affiliations intrigue, and may unfold peculiar angles.

A child born on this day may be progressive, talented and ambitious in its public as well as private lives. Its culture, refinement, social graces and instincts may win it high place in society and fashionable positions.

STOMACH ULCERS

I HAVE RECENTLY received a number of inquiries about the "injection treatment" for ulcer of the stomach — peptic ulcer, as the doctors call it. This form of treatment sometimes results in a pronounced benefit. But it must not be regarded as a sure cure for every case of ulcer of the stomach.

Gastric ulcer, or ulcer of the stomach, is a common complaint. The number who suffer from this affliction is countless. Indeed, it is a very common disturbance of middle life.

As a rule, ulcer can be traced to faulty eating habits, but it is sometimes due to infection, or follows some other disease. Diet, climate, race and general health are important factors in its development.

Several Locations

The ulcer may be located in one of several portions of the stomach, or in the first part of the intestine. If it is in the stomach wall it is spoken of as a peptic ulcer. If it is located in the first portion of the intestine it is spoken of as a duodenal ulcer. The symptoms vary according to the location of the defect.

In the treatment I mentioned, a certain substance is injected into the arms or buttocks of the patient. These treatments are given every day for about three weeks.

A study of several thousands of cases treated in this manner shows it to be of value, but only in a certain type of ulcer. It is not beneficial when the ulcer is extensive, involving a large area. It is not advised if the inflammation and tissue destruction are so marked that rupture or perforation is liable to occur.

Relief Obtained

As a rule, relief is observed after the fourth or fifth injection. The pain may completely disappear and such symptoms as nausea, vomiting and gas formation are relieved. At the termination of the treatment, if it is successful, there is complete disappearance of all symptoms. Occasionally it may be advisable to receive a further course of treatment within six months to a year after the first course has been completed.

In the injection treatment the medication used has a soothing effect on the lining of the stomach. Of course, no one should submit to any form of treatment unless careful investigation has been made. Naturally, it can only be given by the physician.

Undoubtedly your doctor will have an X-ray examination of the stomach. In this way he is able to locate the site of the ulcer and to determine what treatment will be most beneficial.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, June 4.—With Liverpool quotations much lower than due, the Chicago wheat market underwent a material setback early today. Cables said general liquidation abroad developed on account of new American hard winter wheat offerings at $1.30 a bushel in all European ports.
Owing to 1-1/2 cents off, July
1.08 1/4-1.09 1/4, September 1.07 3/4-1.08 1/4, Chicago wheat futures then rallied. Corn started unchanged to 1/4 lower, July 1.21 1/4, September
1.07 1/4-1/8.

COUNTY TO RAZE COVERED SPAN

Old Bridge Over Beaver Creek Near Elkton Will Be Replaced By Modern Structure

LISBON, June 4.—The county engineering department Thursday started razing the covered bridge spanning Beaver creek near Elkton preparatory to replacing it with a modern structure.

When contractors declined to bid on the project recently the county decided to undertake the work on a "force account". The estimated cost amounting to $4,053 failed to interest contractors because of the small margin of profit, County Engineer Robert Wheatley stated. Rather than re-estimate the cost, the department, with the approval of the county commissioners, will remove the old bridge and substitute the new 80 foot span.

Resurfacing operations on the Clarkson-Rogers road also were started Thursday.

Okay WPA Plans

ALLIANCE, June 4.—Another step toward putting a $45,000 bond issue for a WPA repaving and sewer construction project before the voters at a special election, was taken today when state WPA authorities approved the improvement.

"Night Must Fall"

A new type of murder mystery starring Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell, shows at the State tonight and Saturday. The cast also includes Alan Marshall, Dame May Whitty, Merle Tottenham and Kathleen Harrison.

The stage play was written by Emyln Williams whose performance as the murderous bellboy caused Montgomery to induce M-G-M to buy the vehicle after he had seen the novel thriller three times.

The story concerns the lowest drudge of a country hotel near London who has a way with women and the impulse to advance himself by robbing and murdering them.

He kills the hotel guest whose gigolo he was, when she refuses him more money and complains of his affair with a neighbor's maid. When the rich old shrew who bullies that maid learns of the affair she summons the bellboy to berate him. She is herself charmed. She ends by employing him in spite of her niece's mistrust.

Police inquire at the woman's cottage in their search for the missing hotel guest, and the niece suspects the former bellboy. But his very insolence excites and attracts her. The more strongly the girl is drawn to the youth romantically, the more certain she becomes of the horrifying belief that he is the killer.

In spite of her loathing she protects him from discovery. Then she runs away in terror. In her absence her aunt is robbed and murdered by the youth. Just as the murderer is about to add the niece to his list of victims the family attorney arrives with the police.

Western at Grand At the Grand is the Charles Star-ret western, "Trapped", from a story by Peter B. Kyne. It will be featured tonight and Saturday.

With pretty Peggy Stratford, a newcomer to the screen, as his leading lady, Starrett portrays the part of a straight shooting cowpuncher who discovers his brother mortally wounded, stabbed by a vicious killer. In a dying gasp the brother mentions the name of the man that attacked him.

Starrett, out for revenge, searches for the killer. He becomes involved with bank robbers, survives several attempts on his life, and helps capture the bandit gang before he untangles the mystery of his brother's death in the suspense-laden climax.

Two to Serve Jail Terms On Sundays

Lyman Sommers, 23, of North Georgetown, and Louis B. Dorsey, 29, of Youngstown, are going to be frequent visitors at the city jail from now on.

Both men were arrested by Patrolman Paul Ormsby on charges of driving while intoxicated and received fines of $100 and costs, assessed by Mayor George Harroff. The mayor also included a 30-day jail sentence in each case.

Both motorists requested that they be allowed to serve out the jail sentence on Sundays. Mayor Harroff agreed, so Sunday both men will spend the first day of their term behind the bars, leaving 29 more Sundays to go.

Sommers was arrested at 10:50 p. m. Thursday after he is alleged to have nearly struck another automobile at the intersection of West Pershing st. and Sharp ave. Dorsey was nabbed by Patrolman Ormsby June 2.

On the schedule requested by the motorists, they will serve their last day in jail Dec. 26, the day after Christmas.

SALEM POLO CLUB WILL OPEN SEASON SUNDAY

Mullins Foremen Hand Trades Class First Set-Back In Class A Softball League

Nobil Shoes, Ohio Edison Battle To 4-4 Tie After Going One Extra Inning

Foremen Start Spoiling Other Clubs' Championship Hopes by Spanking Trades Class, 11-2; Darkness Halts Nightcap In Class A

Mullins Foremen may be eliminated from the first round championship race in the Class A Softball league, but they're still to be heard from and feared by other teams in the circuit.

Closed out on a chance to cop first round honors by two recent defeats, the defending champions of the league started spoiling the title hopes of other clubs last evening as they walloped the previously unbeaten Trades Class, 11 to 2, at Centennial park.

The defeat dropped the Trades Class out of a tie for first place with the Old Timers and Salem China, while the victory boosted the Foremen from fifth place into a tie for fourth with Demings.

The return of hitting power to Mullins club spelled defeat for the Tradesmen. Pitcher Bill Miller of the Trades Class, usually tough to get by, was touched for ten hits as the Foremen unleashed their heavy artillery, which has been surprisingly silent during early season.

Jerome Kaiser and Shorty Borton led the hitting onslaught, each taking circuit hits from the offerings of Pitcher Miller. Kaiser, in addition to the home run blow, had two other bingles.

Mullins scored in every inning of the tilt, while holding the Tradesmen to one run in the second frame and one in the fourth. Good fielding support enabled Earl McNamee to pitch four-hit ball for the Foremen.

Nobil Shoes and the Ohio Edison battled into extra innings in the other Class A game, but darkness called a halt to the proceedings at the end of the eighth frame with the score deadlocked at 4 to 4. Each club was seeking its first win of the season, having been defeated three times.

The Edisonites scored their four runs on two hits. Nobil's scored four times on 11 hits taken from Pitcher Lee Christen of the O. E.'s.

In Class B games on the lower diamond at the park last evening, the Columbians pulled out of the league cellar by spanking the Friends, 8 to 2, for their first win, while the Emmanuel Lutherans remained in a tie for the lead by chalk-up their fourth straight triumph with a 10 to 3 victory over the Christians.

Gabby Guappone's three hit pitching was largely responsible for the Columbians' win over the Friends. Bill Pauline also hurled three-hit ball to give the Emmanuel Lutherans their win over the Christians.

HENRICH CHOSE TOUGH SPOT TO GET HIS START

As Free Agent He Selected Toughest Outfield To Break Into

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 4.—Never try to bet another man's chips for him. I could make that sound pretty bright by saying it was an unwritten law of the gambling tables, only what I know about gambling tables wouldn't fill a finger bowl, and besides, I can do even better. And as Exhibit A, we give you Thomas David Henrich, free agent; who decided to do it the difficult way.

Henrich, the property of the Cleveland club, was ruled to be a "cover-up" case by Judge Landis a month ago and hence was in a position to pick his own employer—pretty much at his own terms. However, he didn't do any haggling. He immediately picked the New York Yankees and, at the time, it looked like a sucker play.

Inside of two weeks, he was the pride of the dugouts all over the American league. He not only had a regular job in left field, he had a whole ball club of world's champions watching him fondly and wishing him well. For he was the apple-cheeked, young gent, 21 by the clock, who had carried the club right back into the race after a disastrous Western trip.

So where does the sucker-play come in? As a matter of fact, it doesn't. But here's how it could have:

1. Henrich, at the time, wasn't arranging to cut himself in on the next world series. He was ostensibly buying himself a subway ride to Newark, of the International league.

2. He picked the toughest outfield in the league to break into.

DiMaggio had just finished an impressive season in which he was universally hailed as one of the great "freshmen" stars of the generation. Jake Powell had just come off a world series in which he hit better than .400, including a couple of conspicuous home runs. Myril Hoak had hit .301 in 45 games last year. Roy Johnson, the fifth outfielder, was a .300 star with the Red Sox and admittedly could have a job in almost any outfield in the league.

But Johnson was sold to the Boston Bees, Powell went down with appendicitis, Hoag stopped hitting and Henrich, upon being recalled, won one game with a triple with the bases filled and came on the next day to win another with a homer. Moreover, he hit .375 for his first two weeks in the league, proving that all of us were right in the first place, only we overlooked one thing.

The subway runs back from Newark, too.

Dean Stands Pat on Refusal To Sign Apology Statements

NEW YORK, June 4.—"Old Diz" and Ford Frick were still at swords' points today with the St. Louis Cardinals' ace right-hander threatening all kinds of action against the National league in general and its youthful president in particular.

Standing pat on his refusal to sign an apology for a series of alleged statements against Frick, Umpire George Barr, and the league, Jerome Herman Dean declared he would carry his case to Commissioner K. M. Landis and then, if necessary, "Sue Frick and the National league for plenty—at least $250,000—for depriving me of my job."

Outside of appealing to Landis for hearing, after a 10-day interval.

CARDINALS DUE TO SLUMP INTO LOWER DIVISION

Lou Fette Fools Experts With Good Pitching For Boston Bees

BY SID FEDER

The boys along the baseball front were picking a nice, quiet second division berth for the Dean-less St. Louis Cardinals today.

The talk that wasn't given over to the Dean doing, however, was directed at the work of another pitcher, Lou Fette, who's been proving himself the surprise package of the Boston Bees and the 1937 National league rookie crop.

Without their great "popper-offer," whether he's right or wrong in his row with Ford Frick, the Cards are anywhere up to 29 games weaker, depending on how long he's going to be on the outside looking in.

The Bees and the Dodgers therefore may fight it out for the fourth spot in the final National league lineup—the Dodgers, because Burleigh Grimes has given them a shot of dynamite, and the Bees, largely because of Fette.

A lot of baseball men laughed when Bill McKechnie sat down at his desk last winter and signed a flock of rookie "old men" for his Boston Bees.

Bill proved about as foolish as a McGraw. For the rest of the league is kicking itself now over at least one of Boston's rookie veterans—Fette. This "youngster" is 30 years old, and for the last few years has been doing a workhorse act with considerable success for St. Paul of the American association.

The only club in the league to top Fette so far is Pittsburgh, nosing him out 4-1 early in the season. Yesterday was revenge day for Fette in a big way, as he handed the league-leading Bees their first shut-out of the year, 6-0.

The other major league action yesterday didn't create as much stir as a leaf in a breeze. Only four games got by the rain altogether.

Cleveland's Indians evened their series with the New York Yankees by taking a free-swinging 6-1 decision from Lefty Gomez.

The Tigers kicked away enough chances to win three games and lost to the Senators 5-4. The White Sox took over third place from the Tigers in the American league by walloping the Boston Red Sox 11-4.

Fairgrounds Field Scene Of First Game for Local Poloists; Squad Changed

Akron Cowboys Here Sunday for Salem Club's Opening Contest; Pidgeon, Votaw, Moff Back With Team This Year; List 2 New Players

Polo returns to Salem sports circles for its second summer season this weekend with the Salem Polo club meeting the Akron Cowboys at 3 p. m. Sunday in its opening game at the Old Fairgrounds field, located at the extreme eastern end of Maple st.

One year older and more experienced, the Salem club opens its 1937 campaign against one of the two teams which furnished its stiffest opposition last year. The Cowboys furnished the Salem club five times during the 1936 season, winning two of the games and losing three.

Playing for the Akron team in Sunday's game will be boxer Harvey Green, long driving back, Paterson and Leslie, all of whom have appeared at the Fairgrounds field in previous games. Green, a favorite among fans because of his big build, is ranked among the leading backs in the Akron district, one of the strongest polo centers in Ohio.

The playing roster of the Salem club has changed since last season, making the team appear stronger than in 1936. The three leading players from last year's team—Jim Pidgeon, Brook (Pete) Votaw and Raymond Moff—are still with the squad. Newcomers are Buck Miller, veteran Warren Horseman, and Len Yates, former Salem High school grid star, who is playing polo for the first time this season.

Pidgeon, the most accurate mallet-wielder on the Salem team, is starting his fourth year at polo, recognized as one of the outstanding young stars of the northeastern Ohio district, which includes Akron and Cleveland. A fearless rider, Pidgeon was high scorer on the Salem team for the 1936 season.

Votaw is the most experienced horseman on the squad, having served for a number of years with the cavalry unit of the Ohio National Guard. He has played more polo than any of his teammates, is a good rider and consistent scoring threat.

Moff, the youngest member of the squad, is playing polo for the second year. He showed considerable improvement toward the latter part of last season and is being counted on as one of the club's regulars.

The Salem club was formed in the spring of 1936 with Votaw, Pidgeon, Moff, Chet Gibbons, Wilford Smith and Anthony Sheen as its members. Gibbons, Smith and Sheen left the club this year to play with a recently-formed Alliance team.

Old Fairgrounds field, the home of the Salem poloists, has undergone numerous improvements since last season. The playing field has been lengthened, new grass, planted and the rough spots ironed out by a

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 4.—Time of game, two hours; winning pitcher, Dean; losing pitcher, Frick. . . . What with the dean hearing, the schmeling thing and the heat wave, almost everybody here is whipped down. . . . Max's radio script, flatly rejected by N. B. C., must have sizzled. . . . your agent went to the Madison Square Garden bowl last night, but couldn't stir up even a phantom.

But Bill Terry is quoted here as saying Dizzy Dean will be his first choice for the National league all-star team. . . . That is, if Diz is out of the dog house by that time. . . . note to Van Mungo: Lefty Gomez, who bet he would outwit you for the season, has connected safely in eight out of ten games. . . .

Max Schmeling positively will not see Braddock and Louis in Chicago. . . . Max expects to watch his next fight in the courts. . . . Golf exploits of Tony Manero, Denny Shute and Harold (Jug) McSpadden are giving Boston galleries something to cheer about. . . . All three pro in the Hub district. . . .

Lean back and "unlax": Don Budge, America's No. 1 Davis cup hope, won't give a thought to pre-tennis until the old goblet is back in America. . . . the Dodgers want Phil Weintraub from the Reds to fill in for Buddy Hassett at first. . . . Giants would like Philip to ship to their Jersey City farm, where help is more than needed. . . .

What a liberal guy Jack Doyle

FAVOR COOPER TO WIN EVENT

"Lighthouse Harry" Picked To Cop National Open Crown

By FRITZ HOWELL

TOLEDO, June 4.—Who will win the National Open golf championship at Oakland Hills, Birmingham, Mich. next week?

Well, the boys who should know—the top-notch golfing brigade of 16 professionals now entangled in the third Inverness invitational meet—say it will be "Lighthouse Harry" Cooper, who finished second to Tony Manero at Baltusrol last year, or Henry Picard, the tall lad from Hershey, Pa.

The 16 professionals made their selections today, each picking his three favorites. Cooper was on 12 of the 16 lists, and Picard placed on 15.

Manero didn't get even one of the 48 votes, the balloting outside of the Cooper-Picard landslide going like this:

Ralph Guldahl, Sam Sneed and Horton Smith, four each; Ky Laffoon, the Chicago Cherokee, three; Byron Nelson and Jimmy Thomson, two each; and Denny Shute, two-time P. G. A. champ, "Jug" McSpadden, Al Watrous, Olin Dutra, Lawson Little, Ed Dudley, and Tommy Armour, one each.

Five of Cooper's ballots were first placers, five were seconds and two were thirds. Picard lined up seven first places, two seconds and a third. Making the selections were Paul Runyan, Sneed, Thomson, Dutra, Ray Mangrum, Armour, Picard,

FATES UNKIND TO SCHMELING

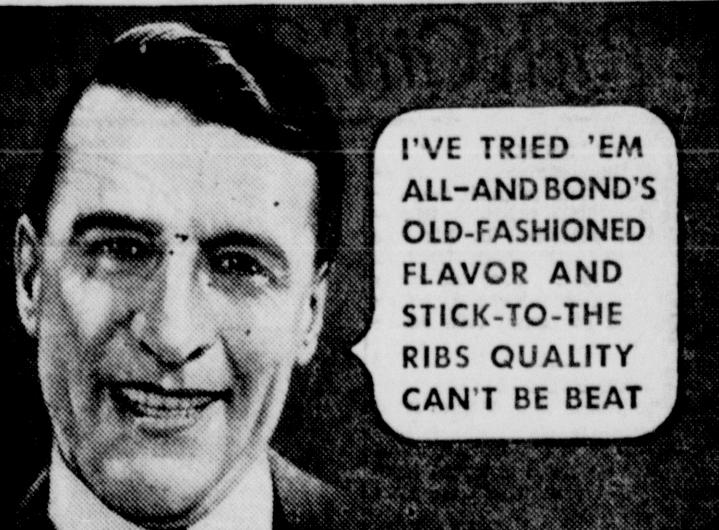

Der Maxie Left Holding Bag Without A Fight For Title In View

NEW YORK, June 4.—Stalemated by destiny, in the form of a minor contract error, Max Schmeling was just another heavyweight looking for a fight, today, when, had the fates been kind, he might have been the newly crowned champion of the world.

Ruin, and nothing else, filled the Madison Square Garden bowl last night. A few hours before Jim Braddock, who under the terms of the original contract, was to have faced Schmeling there, had been suspended indefinitely. He had also been fined $1,000 for not putting in an appearance at the New York Boxing commission offices, to weigh in for the bout by the commission.

Schmeling, browned and hard after training at Speculator, N. Y., was on hand, a somewhat pathetic figure. There was nothing pathetic about his criticism of the commission, however.

Max made it plain he thought the commission should have vacated the title and named him, leading contender with an elimination tourney to decide his opponent in a title fight.

"Rich Girl-Poor Girl" by FAITH BALDWIN

SYNOPSIS
Dr. Jonathan Kimber, a newcomer in the field of medicine, arrives in the little town of Riverport and is welcomed by his late father's friend, Dr. Alan Ballard. "When your father died his community lost its most valuable member," the old physician tells Jonathan.

CHAPTER II
Then he peered at Jonathan from under his bushy brows and asked: "What made you write me about an opening up here? I would have thought you'd just walk into your father's practice."

"Yes, but I didn't want to. It would have been too easy.... and too hard. Before I went to Hopkings, Dad took on an assistant. The pace got too much for him, and the town was growing. He wouldn't specialize, and he wouldn't turn away a patient. I felt that if anyone were to take over the practice it must be Keating.... after all, he'd worked with Dad a long time. When I got back from Vienna we came to a satisfactory arrangement. He is to take over the house, lock, stock and barrel except for some personal things, Dad's books, some furniture which has been in the family a long time.... He'll carry on. I wanted to go somewhere where people didn't know me. Half of Dad's women patients had fed me cookies and spanked me and weren't likely to forget it, either."

"But didn't your father want you to stay on—?"
"No.... In the last letter he wrote me he was pretty definite about that. He thought I'd do better to start out for myself.... I haven't any ties in the town," Jonathan said, "barring a couple of second cousins.... My mother's people were from Jersey, you know, and most of the Kimbers have moved further out West."

"When your letter came," said Ballard slowly, "it seemed like a solution. I wrote you I was going to California in the fall. But I didn't tell you that I'm going for good...."

Jonathan looked up quickly, his lean dark face intent. "For good?" he repeated incredulously.

"Yep. Intended to die in harness. But Nan—that's my daughter, she's married and living in Pasadena—she's been begging me to come out. She and her husband and the kid were on here, a while ago. I hadn't told her that the old ticker wasn't behaving as well as it might, but as bad luck would have it, I pulled an attack while they were here. So there was nothing to it but promise that I'd retire, in the autumn. They wanted me to go right on back with them, but shucks, I'd some jobs to do—couple of young women I've doctored since they were born who couldn't see their way to having their own babies this summer without the old man standing by. So, sometime about October, I'll be heading West. Maybe I'll like it," he said wistfully. "I dunno. After Mame died, I suppose I sort of got wrapped up in my practice. Nan was so far away.... and I was born in this town and my father before me. But they tell me they've got some mighty pretty scenery out in California and a real climate."

Jonathan thought, he's taking it pretty hard, he's a game old chap. His keen, very brown eyes looked directly into the older man's. He asked:

"Suppose people would stand for me here?"
"At first," replied Ballard, "they'll flock to you. Every old hen with a chronic ailment who's doctored with every physician in town, will come a-running to the new young one. Whether you'll keep 'em or not, can't say. You may get the cream, too. John Hopkins and Vienna will attract 'em, flies round a honey pot. I've never had 'em—always been a bit too honest and outspoken for them and they're too rich for my blood. Were you thinking of specializing?"

"Well," said Jonathan, smiling, "I'm supposed to be a surgeon—"

Ballard whistled.

"Dick Jameson has the surgery pretty well sewed up here, in more ways than one," he said. "Rather good, too. But he's getting old. Still he doesn't like youngsters sticking in their scalpels. He makes it tough for them. However, the town can use a new surgeon, there's plenty of people who can't afford Jameson.... providing you're not aiming to charge fancy prices for hemstitching and cut-work embroidery."

"I'm not," Jonathan assured him, "and I didn't mean I don't want a general medical practice as well. I do. I'm keen on it. I know it isn't customary in these days, especially in the larger cities. But it seems right to me. When I operate on a patient I want to see him through afterwards, not turn him over to someone else. And I like obstetrics, too," he added, "and kids."

"Jack-of-all-trades, eh?" said the older man, "well, you're reverting to type, all right. And you've picked the right town to revert in. But I warn you that you have to walk carefully and not tread on important toes. This is a one-man town."

"Who's the one man?"
"Ex-State Senator Sutton. Made his money in shipping, got in on a pulp-mill merger as well, rich as the devil, even according to city standards. Elects the mayor, man-

Penn Grid Hero and Bride

Robert Howell McNamara, University of Pennsylvania football captain for 1937, is pictured with his bride, the former Caroline Christy Murphy, at Philadelphia. They were married secretly early in May. In addition to his football prowess, McNamara stands high in scholastic work.

chuckling, "unless you're crazier than I think you are. However none of 'em have ever set foot in this office, they run to New York when they have bellyaches, or import a specialist from Syracuse. Mrs. Sutton goes in heavily for the psycho-analysis—suppose you know something about those birds, too?"

"Well, after all," said Jonathan apologetically, "I had a year in Vienna and I attended a good many lectures and clinics."

"May come in handy, at that," mused the old man, "plenty of kinks and crochets up here for you to practice on. Not that I hold much with this business. Half the time all a fool notional woman needs is a baby or a house to clean or a dose of castor oil. Of course, they do get results," he added magnanimously, "when it comes to downright lunatics."

SINGAPORE — Whiskey is no antidote against snakebite, at least as far as the cobra is concerned. That was the warning to young men about to leave for the "steamy, snake-infested jungles" of the tropics given by M. F. W. Tweedie, Assistant Curator of the Raffles Museum here.

Ask New Township

TIFFIN, June 4.—Rural residents of Jackson township petitioned Seneca county commissioners yesterday to create a new township in a section of Jackson, excluding the City of Fostoria. Prosecutor
Robert Carpenter said he believed it was the initial move among country residents to exclude Fostoria and Tiffin from participation in rural elections.

Reservoir Victim

GALION, June 4.—Leonard Fellenbaum, 23, drowned in a reservoir late yesterday.

ELYRIA.—About 600 crows will escape the Lorain county Fish and Game association's war on the ebony marauders. County commissioners appropriated $100 bounty fund for the crow heads figuring on eliminating 1,000 of them at 10 cents each. But the law, it developed, requires a 25-cent bounty, enough for only 400 birds.

Golden Gate Bridge Is Engineering Triumph

View of central span

Golden Gate bridge

Opening of the impressive new Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco marks another engineering triumph and a milestone in architectural history. More than 4,000 feet long, the giant central arch is the greatest single suspension span in the world. The huge structure cost $35,000,000 and is capable of accommodating 26,000 vehicles a day. The giant cables which loop from each of the 750-foot towers are a yard in diameter and weigh in excess of 22,000 tons. Constructed during the term of Mayor Rossi of San Francisco, the bridge was financed by local bonds and opened four months after completion of the huge San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

DULUTH, Minn.—Shipments of butter by water from Duluth to lower lake ports are expected to reach a total value of approximately $50,000,000 this year, according to upper lake shippers. Between 70,000 and 75,000 tons of butter will be loaded in Duluth this season as compared to 69,730 tons during the 1936 shipping season.
